PRESIDENT TO DELIVER MAJOR ADDRESS HERE

President Eisenhower will deliver a major address at the Gettysburg College convocation next Saturday morning, it was announced Friday by James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary.

The President plans to speak 15 or 20 minutes. The program is scheduled to begin at 9:45 o'clock and will be held on the football field. In event of inclement weather the program will be presented in the Eddie Plank memorial gymnasium.

Mr. Eisenhower delivers another important address Thursday at the tenth anniversary meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council in Washington.

The President stayed at the farm Friday with the exception of a half hour when he attended union Good Friday services in the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Eisenhower drove into town from the farm after the services and did some miscellaneous shopping at Grant's Store.

Although this morning a bright sun bathed the area the mercury was not conducive to golfing. At the Gettysburg Country Club the thermometer registered 31 degrees at 9 o'clock. The President had planned to play golf this morning, but it was believed to be too cold.

Major and Mrs. John Eisenhower and their four children arrived at their home, a converted schoolhouse on the farm property, Friday afternoon to spend Easter here.

THIEVES FAIL TO GET MONEY IN ROBBERIES

Burglars broke into the Central Chemical Co. office and the McDermitt, Inc., office along the Lincoln Highway east of here Friday night, but secured only a "few pennies." At the same time thieves stole a tire and wheel from a new truck parked in the Adams County Motors, Inc., lot on York St.

Leo McDermitt reported that the burglars who entered his concrete plant on the Lincoln highway were unable to pry open a door, and then broke a window to enter the office. They ransacked files and drawers in search of money but "found none because there is never any money kept here," McDermitt said. The door and window were damaged.

Get Few Pennies

At the Central Chemical plant next door burglars broke a window in a small warehouse at the rear of the office, then forced open a latch on a door to the office. They ransacked drawers and files. The only item missing was "a few pennies" in tax money kept in a box which is emptied daily and "there couldn't have been more than a $1 or so in it," Donald White said.

State police were called this morning to investigate the two burglaries.

Borough police were notified this morning by Glenn Guise, of Adams County Motors, that a tire and wheel valued at $45 were removed during the night from a new truck parked in the rear of the garage lot.

High Street School Usable This Year

The Department of Labor and Industry report on the recent inspection of the former High Street school building where four rented rooms are filled with Sixth graders of the public school system will permit continuance of present use of the building for the remainder of this school year.

The report sent to County Superintendent of Schools C. P. Keefer ordered fire towers at each end by fall if the building were to continue in its present use for another year. The grade school pupils, however, will be housed in the Eisenhower and Keefeauver schools in the fall.

Burgess Wilbur Plank, owner of the former school building on E. High St., said he is preparing plans to submit to Harrisburg covering other changes ordered by the state to permit the building to be used next fall for the day care center. Some basement changes are required.

Millions Of Americans Will Celebrate Easter In Traditional Manner

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Atop mountains and in glens, in the open or within the confines of amphitheaters and churches, Americans will celebrate Easter by the millions.

Most of them will mark the holiday in churches but many also will take part in traditional public observances.

Of course the day will bring out paraders in new bonnets and frocks, too, and the biggest gathering of these is on New York's Fifth Avenue.

Fair weather is expected over most of the nation.

One of the great outdoor observances will be the sunrise service in the Hollywood, Calif., Bowl. There some 20,000 persons are expected to hear a sermon by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, one of the 12 apostles of the Latter-Day Saints Church.

On Indian Mounds

In Oklahoma's Wichita Mountains near Lawton, other thousands gather for a similar observance.

SCOTT, KANE TOP BALLOTS FOR PRIMARY

County Commissioner E. Donald Scott drew first place among Republican candidates for commissioner at the drawing held Thursday afternoon at the court house to determine the position in which the various candidates will appear on the ballot at the May 19 primary.

Kane and Scott had to be present because the commissioners also serve as the election board. Kane also drew first place as a candidate for commissioner on the Democratic ticket.

Other Present

Clarence J. Waybright, Gettysburg R. 1, a Republican candidate for commissioner; Marlin H. VanDyke, Republican candidate for register and recorder, and James R. Feather, Republican candidate for councilman in the Third Ward, were the other candidates present for the drawing.

Scott drew number 1 in a drawing in which the man with the lowest number is given the top spot on the ticket, and the man with the highest number the lowest position.

The drawing resulted in the Republican candidates for commissioner appearing on the ballot in this order: Scott, George Ackerson, Donald B. Hall, Clarence J. (Continued On Page 2)

Dr. Hamsher Urges Aid For Crippled

An "opportunity to sense the true meaning of Easter" was offered Adams Countyans today by Dr. M. K. Hamsher, the county's Easter Seal seal chairman. The campaign which opened 30 days ago ends officially on Easter Sunday.

"The Easter Seal campaign provides the money to pay for the special equipment, the doctors and therapists and all the facilities so urgently needed to help the handicapped child. And this for most of us will represent the true meaning of Easter—helping these children to rise again toward a happy, useful future. That's what you buy when you buy Easter Seals. The more you give, the brighter the future for more children."

Dr. Hamsher said receipts in the current seal sale are close to $2,500, approximately $500 short of the total reached in last year's sale.

Although the sale ends officially at Eastertime, donations will be accepted later, he said, adding that often many folk who have neglected mailing contributions when the seals were distributed, send their contributions after Easter.

JIM BISHOP ON SURPRISE VISIT HERE

Jim Bishop, author of the best-selling book, "The Day Christ Died," which was published in The Gettysburg Times in serial form during Lent, is a guest at the Hotel Gettysburg. He arrived here Good Friday afternoon on a surprise visit accompanied by his 15-year-old daughter, Gayle Peggy Bishop, and Miss Joan Sullivan, a friend of the family. Another daughter, Mrs. Virginia Lee Frechette, resides at Lincroft, N. J.

In an interview with a reporter for The Times, Bishop told how he came to write his famous best-seller.

"I've always been a sort of doubting Thomas and while I studied the Bible I wondered about the story or Christ, how much of what I read was true and were these Holy Land places as portrayed in the Bible."

Visited Holy Land

"I decided to see for myself, and so with my daughter I visited the Holy Land. Incidentally, when I wrote 'A Day in the Life of a President,' I learned that President Eisenhower was a student of the Bible and that during the Second World War he took a few days leave out of Africa and visited the Holy Land."

"I read the Gospels and 40 separate works on the life of Christ. I annotated all of them and then went to Jerusalem where I covered everything over the same ground He walked, etc. I learned that the Mt. of Olives is only 800 feet from Jerusalem and at the base is Gethsemane. I learned also that the Jews did all of their teaching orally, never writing anything. Everything was handed down, word for word. They were detailish, being particular about one word."

"I learned that Christ predicted the sack of Jerusalem. I also read a book that was written 50 years after Christ died which lent definite proof of Christ. I was in a convent near Pontius Pilate's (Continued On Page 3)

Along with all of Christendom, Gettysburg and Adams County folk were poised today for the celebration of joyous Easter Sunday, most important date in the calendar of the Christian Church.

The weather may be chilly but churches will be jammed to the doors with worshipers who will turn out to celebrate the anniversary of Christ's resurrection from the dead nearly 20 centuries ago.

As the sun rises Easter morn, hundreds of thousands will be gathered in churches, on hilltops, in parks or at lakesides to sing Easter hymns and hear messages that will tell of Christ's redemptive sacrifice on the cross and the message of the empty tomb on that first Easter morning.

15 Dawn Services

Along with Christians around the world, dawn services will be held here at sunrise on Easter and special services will be held during the morning, afternoon and evening in many of the churches of the county.

No less than 15 Easter dawn services have been announced by churches throughout the county for Sunday morning so that anyone interested in attending will find one conveniently close.

The list includes: Gettysburg Youth Council service at 6 a.m. on Oak Ridge; County Christian Endeavor service at 6 a.m. in the Church of the Abiding Presence on the seminary campus; St. Paul's AME Zion Church at 6 a.m.; Abbotstown Lutheran Church; Flohr's Lutheran Church at 6 a.m.; Trinity Lutheran Church in East Berlin and at 6:30 a.m. in St. Mark's Lutheran Church at Heidelsburg.

Easter Finery Due

Holy Communion, reception of members and special Easter music that has been rehearsed for weeks or months by church choirs will be presented in traditional services during the day.

The weather will have its effect but there will be many ladies who will turn out in all their new spring finery regardless of the temperatures or overcast skies. New clothes that many had no opportunity to wear on a freezing-cold Palm Sunday will come out for the Easter parade tomorrow.

Traffic that has been building up in volume since Thursday evening is expected to hit a new peak here for this year over the weekend. Hotels, motels, restaurants and other businesses that cater to Gettysburg visitors were enjoying a big weekend, the first of the new season. With schools and colleges closed and with most state and federal employees enjoying a long weekend holiday, thousands are "on the move" through Gettysburg this weekend.

Lent Season Ends

For many, Easter brings the end of the sacrifices and restrictions of the Lenten season that ends tonight.

For others it marks the end of winter weather, even though the calendar said spring arrived a week ago. After Easter, they say, there will be no more rough weather. Signs of spring appear daily. The early crocuses are out and the lilac buds are swelling. Boys are flying kites and playing marbles and baseball has taken over once more in the field of sport.

Easter shopping has given the retail business a welcome shot in the arm. Not only the ladies' apparel shops have noticed the seasonal upturn, but florists are experiencing their Easter rush, food stores are featuring their Easter specials and there are the customary purchases of candy and other gifts for the great spring holiday.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

A marriage license was issued at the court house this morning to Clarence Lester Armsberger son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Armsberger, Biglerville R. 1, and Hazel Viola Smith, Gardners R. 1, daughter of Mrs. Myrtle N. Smith, Gettysburg R. 4, and the late Elvin J. Smith.

RED CHINESE CLAIM REVOLT IS SMASHED

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
TOKYO (AP) — Red China claimed today it has smashed an uprising in Tibet and installed the Panchen Lama — pro-Communist rival of the rebellious Dalai Lama — as head of a new regime.

An order by Premier Chou En-lai abolished the Tibetan government nominally headed by the Dalai Lama. Peiping said the Dalai Lama "under duress by the rebels" tore up the treaty he signed in 1951 with Red China.

A broadcast by Peiping said the 36-year-old Dalai Lama had been abducted by rebels who rose against the Red Chinese overlords last week.

Say Supply Airdropped

Peiping charged the rebels had been armed by supplies airdropped by the Chinese Nationalists. The supplies included radio equipment.

The rebels attacked Lhasa on March 19 and were defeated in two days of battle, Peiping said. It listed rebel casualties at 4,000 captured. The Red Chinese troops seized 8,000 small arms, 81 machineguns, 27 mortars, 6 mountain guns and huge amounts of ammunition, the broadcast said.

Peiping carefully refrained from assailing the Dalai Lama, the living Buddha of Tibetans and the most popular man in the land of the Lamas.

Blame "Upper Strata"

The revolt was blamed on the "Tibetan local government and an upper strata reactionary clique" backed by imperialists.

Chou said the 21-year-old Panchen Lama will be chairman of a committee set up for what he called the Tibet Autonomous region. Committees in 80 - called self-governing regions of Red China take orders from Peiping.

But the broadcast made it clear that the Chinese Red military will be in charge. Peiping said a military control committee was set up in Lhasa Monday and other cities and areas had been placed under firm control of the Red army.

With Tribesmen

The Dalai Lama presumably is with the rugged Kampa tribesmen who have been in revolt against the Chinese Reds for three years.

Peiping radio in announcing the shakeup acknowledged for the first time the Tibetans had rebelled against their Red masters.

Chou's order emphasized that while the Dalai Lama is under "duress by the rebels" the Panchen Lama will act as "chairman of the preparatory committee for the Tibet Autonomous Region."

CONTRADICTS CLAIM TANKER WAS AT FAULT

NEW YORK (AP)—Capt. Louis Murphy, skipper of the tanker Valchem, contends that the Grace Line's Santa Rosa hit his ship as he lay hove to in thick fog.

Murphy's statement to newsmen Friday, after his smashed vessel reached Brooklyn under tow, directly contradicts a Grace Line statement that the Valchem crossed in front of the luxury liner in perfect weather.

Four crewmen of the Valchem died in the collision early Thursday 22 miles off Atlantic City, N.J. The 10,000-ton Valchem's stern was almost cut in half. The 20,000-ton Santa Rosa's bow was crushed above the water line, but there were no injuries to passengers and crew. The Santa Rosa was returning to New York after a 12-day Caribbean cruise.

Murphy, 33, read the following statement:

Fog Was Thick

"I was on the bridge when the collision occurred. It was thick fog. Visibility was less than a quarter of a mile. We had been sounding fog signals for over an hour and traveling at reduced speed.

"The Santa Rosa was sighted on our radar at about eight miles away, practically dead ahead. We changed course to the right to pass her port to port in the customary way.

"She then apparently changed course to her left. When her fog signal was heard about 3 o'clock, our time, my engines were immediately stopped and we never put ahead again.

Sounded Signals

"When my ship had lost her headway, we sounded fog signals of two prolonged blasts, which is a signal for a vessel with no way on her.

"The Santa Rosa kept coming and hit us on the port side near the stern at high speed. We were stopped in the water when she hit."

The two versions of the crash foreshadowed a stormy session when the Coast Guard opens its inquiry Monday.

Capt. Marjorie Siwik, 50, skipper of the Santa Rosa, declined to discuss the accident prior to the Coast Guard inquiry. A few of his crew and some passengers mentioned fog or haze at the time of the crash. But the version of the Grace Line, owners of the Santa Rosa, said the ship was proceeding "in perfect weather."

palace where the Sisters of Zion lived and where 20 feet underground they found the old Jerusalem. On flagstones they found games inscribed, similar to the tic tac toe with chickens, soldiers, etc., cut in the various squares. The last square contained a phony king, which was supposed to represent Christ."

Two Years Of Research
Bishop said that he spent two years doing research for the book, had compiled 23 hourly notebooks, another on the history of the Jews, the history of the Romans and the early life of Christ. Then he said, he spent 50 days writing the best-seller. 800,000 copies of the book have been sold.

Bishop also wrote another best-seller, "The Day Lincoln Died" which sold 2,100,000 copies.

The story on Christ was translated into several languages, the most recent being Japanese.

Sweden is publishing the Lincoln book in Swedish.

Tour Battlefield
After Pope John XXIII was elected, reporters rushed to the Cardinal's home in Venice to ferret out further data on the new Pontiff. When they returned they told Bishop that on the Cardinal's desk was the Italian translation of his book on Christ, opened to Page 208.

Bishop is now doing research for his next book, "The Time of the Traitors," a story of spies during World War II. He said it will be completed in the fall.

Arthur Godfrey featured an interview with Bishop on his Good Friday program. It had been taped-recorded about two weeks ago. A number of Gettysburgians saw it on TV.

Bishop and his party toured the Battlefield this morning.

What Became Of Pilate After Crucifixion; Did He Suicide?

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

"And Pilate said unto them (the priests and Pharisees), Ye have a watch: go your way and make it as sure as ye can."

"So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch."

And that, in the words of the evangelist Matthew, is the last scriptural notice taken of one of the most controversial and least known figures in the Easter story.

In southern Illinois, there will be a nondenominational groundbreaking ceremony for a 111-foot lighted steel cross to be installed atop 1,030-foot Bald Knob hill at Alto Pass. A crowd of 6,000 is expected.

30,000 In Mountains
Mountain amphitheaters will be the setting for services for some 30,000 near Colorado Springs and Denver, Colo.

During the week a helicopter lifted a new cross to the summit of Mt. Rubidoux near Riverside, Calif. It will be in place in time for Sunday services, replacing one burned last fall by vandals.

Methodist Bishop John Wesley Lord will conduct services for more than 12,000 worshipers at the famed Cathedral of the Pines, a national arboreal shrine for all faiths near Rindge, N.H.

Community Pageant
For the 18th Easter in a row, Marion, Ind., will stage a community pageant, and thousands are expected to mark the holy day at services atop Mt. Davidson at San Francisco and Halfdome in Yosemite National Park.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts Easter parades will have sunny skies, or at worst, cloudiness, in much of the nation. There may be rain in central areas of the country, according to the forecast, and the mountains of Colorado and Wyoming may see snow flurries.

Easter Weather Outlook Good
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pennsylvania had generally clear but cool weather today after a bout with snow, sleet, hail and rain, with a little lightning and thunder, that made Friday one of the most varied in the Commonwealth this year.

As much as four inches of snow fell in the Erie section and the higher ranges of the Poconos. The sleet and hail was widespread in southeastern Pennsylvania, which also got a thin blanket of snow.

Highway plowing and cinder crews were called out to meet Friday's early spring storm and travel across the state was slowed by slick highways.

—the Roman procurator Pontius Pilate.

Was Pilate a good man or bad? The Bible leaves the reader a wide choice: You can sympathize with him in his weakness; you can despise him for the same fault; you can admire him for what seems to be his sympathy for Jesus.

Recalled By Emperor
What happened to Pilate after he fulfilled his Easter week destiny? About all that can be said for sure is that he left his post in Judea in the year 36, ostensibly recalled by the emperor.

But, like nature, tradition, legend and outright fiction all abhor vacuum. So, with a little diligent reading in the literature called "New Testament Apocrypha", you can find out what may, or could, have happened to Pilate.

One apocryphal account has the Emperor Tiberius, angered by the worldwide darkness and earthquakes that accompanied the crucifixion, recalling Pilate to Rome for trial and condemnation.

Another Story
Another story, equally apocryphal, goes like this:

The ailing Tiberius hears of Jesus' healing miracles and sends for him. The Roman emissary arrives in the Holy Land after Jesus is crucified.

Instead, Veronica — she of the veil—goes to Rome and cures the emperor's sickness with a portrait of Jesus. Tiberius sends for Pilate and sentences him to death.

But Pilate cheats the executioner by stabbing himself with his own dagger.

LAUGH BANDIT OUT OF LOOT
NEW YORK (AP) — A bandit was laughed out of a $3,282 payroll Friday because he wore a "monster" rubber mask.

The man with the mask walked into a downtown fish warehouse office and announced, "This is a stickup."

Lorraine Waldron, a secretary, and switchboard operator Alice Griska, thinking it was a gag, just laughed. Warehouse manager Neil Foldal walked in, thought it was an employee pulling a stunt, and said, "Stop kidding."

The masked man fled. But truck driver John McKelvey seeing the man and, thinking it was a good joke, ripped off the mask.

The intruder, whom police said was carrying a gun, was identified as Philip Albanese, 19, who two weeks ago worked a day for the firm as a truck driver. Authorities said Albanese has been out on bail in a Brooklyn robbery case. Albanese was charged with assault and robbery.

temperatures due to range up to about the 50 mark in most of the state today the conditions for Easter travel appeared good.

Generally, for Easter the forecast was clear and cool.

Newly Stocked Wild Turkeys
Are Thriving: A number of wild turkeys, released under the supervision of Game Protector Leo Bushman in Adams county on March 4, are reported doing well in their new habitat and are expected in time to provide hunters with a return of wild turkey shooting such as has not been seen here in many years.

A total of 810 mature, swift and crafty wild turkeys, including 202 toms and 608 hens, were released in Division "D" of the Pennsylvania Game Commission's territory, which includes Adams and nine other south-central counties of the state. These augment wild turkeys previously released. The birds were raised at the state wild turkey farm at Montoursville.

The short month of the year, February, was a busy one at the hospital. Patients admitted were 220. The average per day was 83.

Today's Talk

EASTER

To me the story of Easter is one of the most inspiring of all events in this world. Christ had been crucified. Sadness hovered within the very atmosphere. Defeat was in the air. The enemies of Christ had done their worst. The faithful—the two Marys, and others—gathered at the foot of the Cross to receive the Crucified one to their hearts.

Quiet was in the land, and sorrow, like a dense fog, was about those who administered to Him Whom they loved. Shortly to the tomb they carried Him, and a great stone was placed silently at its entrance. The faithful watchers retired for the night.

Then early the next morning the tomb was visited, only to learn that the great stone at the entrance had been removed by an Angel of the Lord, to prove to the world that there is no Death—that Victory over Defeat had been performed. Then there was rejoicing. "He is risen!" were the sensational words that echoed beyond the hills.

To Emmaus two disciples journeyed to talk over this remarkable Resurrection—a miracle like none other that had ever been known. No proof was needed, however, in the face of the wounded hands and feet, and the discarded Crown of Thorns. Little did those at that simple meal suspect that their guest was to be Him Who had been taken from the Cross. The news spread far and wide.

Easter would be meaningless without the Crucifixion and the Resurrection from the Tomb. They made Christ possible as the Interceder for us all.

HOPE REBORN

They that had lost their faith in God,

They that were wailing slaves to Death,

The gave up hope when ended breath

And living, still in darkness trod,

Awoke with faith and hope reborn

Upon the blessed Easter morn.

They that had wandered far astray

And lived in terror of the grave,

That thought there was no power to save,

No future life, no brighter day,

Saw light shine out and courage dawn

Upon the blessed Easter morn.

They that went stumbling on and cried:

"How grim a thing it is to die!"

To live but in a grave to lie,

For who has seen the other side?"

Through Him who bore the cross and thorn,

Awoke to sing on Easter morn.

They that were sorrowing,

They that were faithless,

They that were suffering,

They that were smiling at pain

And hymns of gladness sweetly voiced,

And all took hope that were forlorn

Upon the blessed Easter morn.

A Bit Of History About Burials In Black's Graveyard

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

B. F. M. MacPHERSON

The historical and genealogical study of the people interred in Black's Graveyard (Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian) is continued at this time.

The list of burials, excepting those already mentioned, includes members of the following families:—

3. "In memory of Samuel Cobean who departed this life August 2, 1832. Aged 62 years, 4 months and 29 days."

Adams Centinel, Tuesday, August 7, 1832

"Died, Thursday night, August 2, 1832, Mr. Samuel Cobean Senior, of Cumberland Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, aged 62 years."

4. "In memory of Elizabeth Cobean who departed this life October 14, A.D., 1834. Aged 60 years and 4 months."

Adams Centinel, Monday, October 20, 1834

"Died, Tuesday, October 14, 1834, Mrs. Elizabeth Cobean, widow of Mr. Samuel Cobean Senior, dec'd., of Cumberland Township, this County, aged 60 years."

Cobean Will

Apparently Samuel Cobean Sr. was the son of a Samuel Cobean.

In his will, which was written April 4, 1804, and entered to probate January 31, 1809, the first Samuel Cobean, of Franklin Township, Adams County, mentions the following members of his family:—

1. Son — Alexander, Cobean —

— possession of my Upper Mill, also a negro child named Doll."

2. Son — Samuel Cobean —

— negro boy named Watt."

3. Son — William Cobean.

4. Son — James Cobean.

5. Son — John Cobean.

— the negro woman named 'Doll' to be set free in January of 1808."

It is not only possible, but highly probable, that the first Samuel Cobean and his wife are both buried in Black's Graveyard in unmarked graves. The family burial plot, insofar as can be determined at this late date, appears to contain more than the marked graves of Samuel and Elizabeth Cobean.

Writes Will In 1836

William Cobean, son of the first Samuel Cobean and brother of the second, was also a resident of Cumberland Township, this county, and it is very likely that he, too, was buried in Black's Graveyard. In his will, which was written April 20, 1836, and entered to probate December 6, 1837, William Cobean mentions the following members of his family:—

1. Wife — Rachel Cobean.

2. Son — Alexander Cobean.

3. Son — William Cobean.

4. Daughter — Rachel Cobean intermarried with Abraham Scott.

Claim Blue Laws Are Hurting State

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Hotels Assn. claims that Pennsylvania blue laws banning Sunday liquor sales and discriminatory and injurious to the economic health of the whole state.

Charles T. Carey, president of the association which represents hotels in western Pennsylvania, said Friday the same thing applies to the proposed beverage tax.

"Existing laws discourage and, in many cases, prevent conventions from coming here with a consequent loss of revenue for everybody," said Carey.

The association called for abolition of the laws. Carey said the state now collects some 100 million dollars a year in beverage taxes.

Movie Actor Ends His Life

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—The tempestuous career of movie actor Grant Withers has ended in suicide.

His body was found propped up in bed at his apartment Friday.

He was wearing glasses, his left hand clutched a telephone receiver.

A novel, "Home Before Dark," was open before him.

Detectives said he had been dead about 24 hours when his landlord discovered him. He had swallowed an overdose of sleeping tablets and there were two notes explaining his act. He was 55.

When actress Loretta Young was 17, she and Withers eloped by airplane to Yuma, Ariz. Her mother met the plane as they arrived back and started annulment proceedings. That was the end of their honeymoon.

Wed Five Times

"Oh, I'm so sorry," she said as she was told of the death when she returned from Good Friday church services.

"It's better this way; thanks to my friends, sorry I let them down," read one of Withers' notes. "I was so unhappy."

He had been married five times.

In 1954 Withers almost died from an overdose of probanthine tablets, used for treatment of ul-

Cobean, are buried in Black's Graveyard, in unmarked graves.

"Died, Saturday morning, May 8, 1841, Miss Jane Cobean, daughter of Mr. William Cobean Senior, Deceased, of Cumberland Township, this County, aged about 29 years."

Note:—A granddaughter of the pioneer, the first Samuel Cobean, Jane Cobean is mentioned in the will of her father, William Cobean Senior.

9. Monday, April 11, 1842—

"Died, at two o'clock on the afternoon of Sunday, April 10, 1842, after a long illness, Mrs. Susan E. Cobean, wife of Colonel Robert Cobean, of Marsh Creek, Cumberland Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

Note:—Susan E. (Watt) Cobean, of Chester County, Pennsylvania, who was married to Robert Cobean, son of William Cobean, Senior, on May 17, 1837. The burial place of Susan (Watt) Cobean is not known.

Because so little is known these notes on the Cobean family are both fragmentary and incomplete. If additional data should come to light it will be included in this column.

These notes will be continued next week.

Let's Look At The Record

STORMY WEATHER

Khrushchev To Create Secondary Tensions Before Major Issues On Berlin Are Settled

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D., President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

IN FOREIGN AFFAIRS the American people should be prepared for a stormy spring. The weather of diplomacy will worsen before it bet-ters.

Should Khrushchev and Company carry their Berlin game of brinksmanship to the traditional brink of war, other tensions are likely to appear.

Between Syngman Rhee and the Japanese government. This and other similar minor affairs, it is possible, are being nursed for advantageous agitation as the date for the Berlin show-down approaches.

DURING THE same season we should not be surprised should trouble suddenly break out in Laos.

Pressures along the boundary between Iran and the Soviet Empire are also possible. Any rumormongering that can be stirred up in Laos will, of course, be quite minor and secondary. Because of the long common frontier Iran has with Russia, however, a major tension can be created in Iran any time the Kremlin sees fit.

EGYPT'S NASSER is an unscrupulous dictator and trader on human emotions. He is less dangerous than Khrushchev only because he is weaker. He failed this month to unseat General Abdul Karim el-Kassem as the ruler of Iraq.

El-Kassem has been walking the tight rope of neutrality between Nasser's pressures for an Arabian empire and the infiltrations of the Communists who want Iraq's oil.

Many believe this month's abortive revolution against el-Kassem by Nasser thus topples Iraq's strong man from his tight rope to the side of the Soviets.

If so, there will be new tensions with heavy overtones of oil diplomacy in the Middle East before the Berlin story is finished.

FORMOSA AND Quemoy will soon be back in the headlines. The latter will be bombarded again. Dog fights between Red jets and Nationalist Chinese planes will again occur over Quemoy and Fochow.

The Mainland Chinese Reds can intensify the tension by hitting a few Formosa targets with some of the intermediate range, guided missiles Russia recently gave to her oriental, Communist partner.

Red China also now has about twenty submarines from the growing Soviet flotillas at Vladivostok. The Russians began training Chinese submarine crews for those almost ten years ago. They are now said to be highly proficient.

Thus the Mainland Chinese have become the world's fourth strongest nation in submarines. They have the capability of putting Formosa under a submarine blockade. And if in doing so they were reinforced by Soviet submarines from Vladivostok, who would know the difference until long after the incident?

Accordingly, no one should be surprised should there be a Formosa furore similar to past pressures, accompanied by new wrinkles such as missiles that reach across the Formosa Strait and some submarine activity, for which the Red Chinese get all the credit.

IN KOREA things have been quiet. Many Americans have taken it for granted that everything is stabilized in that area.

Actually, there is always something brewing in Korea that Khrushchev could quickly bring to a violent boil. For example, it is not likely we have heard the last of the dissension over the Korean nationals who are being returned from Japan.

North Korea and the Communists have been strangely silent through the friction between them.

Financial difficulties piled up on him and overdue bills dogged him right up to his death.

TIBET FORCES CUT HIGHWAYS TO RED CHINA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist headquarters said today rebel Tibetan forces have destroyed sections of two highways leading from Red China to Lhasa, capital of Tibet.

The rebels reportedly control areas around Lhasa where the Chinese Communists were depending on airdrops for supplies.

The highways were destroyed to prevent Red reinforcements from reaching the city, according to reports from underground contacts in Tibet, the Nationalists said.

One of the highways links Tsinghai province in the north with Lhasa. The other joins the city with Sinkiang province in the east.

Refuge In Mountain

In Tokyo, the Maharaja Kumar of Sikkim reiterated his belief that the Dalai Lama, Tibet's god-king, has probably found refuge high in the Himalayas with the anti-Communist Khampa tribesmen.

The crown prince of the tiny mountainous state bordering Tibet said he did not know the fate of the 23-year-old living Buddha, but that the Dalai Lama has had ample time to reach rebel Khampa lines over secret routes known only to his followers. The Khampas reportedly started last week's revolt.

The Maharaja said the Chinese have never secured their hold in Tibet, "but there is little one can do against them in the long run."

It is believed the Communists hold a narrow strip of Tibet from Lhasa to the Chinese border some 100 air miles eastward.

Bullets Host Vet Ithaca Team Monday; Villanova Plays Here Next Tuesday

ITHACA, N. Y. — Coach James A. (Bucky) Freeman will launch his 25th year as coach of the Ithaca College varsity baseball team next week with a preseason trip with his veteran squad to North Carolina.

The Ithacans will open the season at Gettysburg, Monday, at 2:30; clash with the University of North Carolina, Wednesday; play a round-robin series with Elon College and the Camp Lejeune Marines at Camp Lejeune the next three days, and wind up the trip at Quantico against the Marines on Sunday, April 5.

The Ithaca Bombers will open their official 20-game season at Army, April 10.

Freeman has on deck 16 members of last year's squad that won 13 out of 15 games. This number includes 13 lettermen and a five-man pitching staff.

The veteran Ithaca coach has had losses, however, behind the plate, at shortstop, third base and at right field.

Only holdover catcher is Brian Mee of Johnston, N. Y., to whom Freeman refers to as a good candidate for the job. He batted .313 last year. Another prospect is Bob Ryan of Fair Haven, Vt.

Perry Noun of Rochester, an outfielder who batted .409 last season to lead the team, and Joe Internicola of Bellmore, L. I., a reserve last year, are the leading candidates for shortstop.

Jerry Neufang of Solvay, another reserve, and Alfred Cain of Mt. Vernon, who played on the frosh team two years ago, are vying for the third base post.

Amleto Girolaro of Croton-on-Hudson, Wilfred Chabot of Pawtucket, R. I., and Bob Hoyt of Center Moriches, L. I., are outfield veterans. Hoyt, who batted .368 two years ago, is returning to the lineup after a year's leave of absence because of an injury.

The pitching staff includes a diminutive lefthander, Basil Curry of Ellensburg Center, who was credited with five victories last season without a defeat, and Rich Slomkowski of Kearny, N. J., who had an earned run average of 1.16. Bob Graham, a righthander from Port Henry, stood 3-1 in wins and losses last season. Other moundmen are Don Churchill of Little Falls, and Bob Carty of Hydeville, Vt.

The rest of the lineup is likely to be: Joe Materile of White Plains, 1b, who batted .306 last season, and Stan Borow of Bayonne, N. J., 2b, who batted .281.

Following Monday's game the Bullets clash with Villanova here Tuesday and next Saturday travel to Wilkes-Barre to meet Wilkes College.

Curt Simmons Has Flinger In Sling

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Southpaw Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies has his pitching arm in a sling today, hoping the rest will cure his elbow trouble.

In the meantime, there'll be no hurrying for the hard-luck veteran. He'll be examined again in 10 days to determine if surgery is needed to remove a bone chip which has been bothering him for some time.

While the arm is immobilized in splints, Simmons will be given heat and ultra-sonic treatments.

Simmons, who posted 12 wins in 1957, and slumped to a 7-14 record last season, said that even if surgery is indicated, doctors told him he'd be back on the mound in about six weeks.

THREE CINCY PITCHERS GO LIMIT, WIN

By DON WEISS

Look here, what's happening to the pitcher-poor Cincinnati Reds?

A 4-1 victory over St. Louis on Wednesday as Orlando Pena goes the nine-inning distance on a five-hitter. A 2-1 victory over Los Angeles Thursday on a complete game seven-hitter from Brooks Lawrence. And now a 12-1 whipping of Philadelphia as Bob Purkey matches Pena and Lawrence with a five-hit job.

Three complete games, low hit victories back to back—and this for a club supposed to be long on power and short on pitching. Every manager should have the kind of pitching "shorts" Mayo Smith seems to have.

Good Friday Exhibition

The Reds' victory came at Tampa, Fla., in the feature of a Good Friday exhibition baseball program limited to three games. At Fort Myers, Fla., the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 and at St. Petersburg, Fla., ex-Yankee Whitey Herzog slammed four hits and led Kansas City to a 5-2 decision over New York.

Cincinnati collected 15 hits off Ruben Gomez and Ray Semproch. R. C. Smith, Bennie Daniels and Joe Gibson combined on a five-hitter for the Pirates, who broke a 3-3 tie to beat St. Louis after two were out in the eighth inning.

Herzog, one of 10 ex-Yankees on the Kansas City roster, led a 10-hit assault on Johnny Kucks with a double and three singles in support of steady pitching by A's lefthander Bud Daley.

Simmons, who posted 12 wins in 1957, and slumped to a 7-14 record last season, said that even if surgery is indicated, doctors told him he'd be back on the mound in about six weeks.

2 Golfers, 55, 56, Clash For Title

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Bruce Coffin of Marblehead, Mass. and Leon Sikes of West Palm Beach, two "youngsters" in the American Seniors Golf Assn. Tournament, meet for the title today.

Coffin at 56 is making his first appearance in the tourney for amateurs 55 and over. Sikes at 57 is competing for the third time. He won it two years ago in his first try.

Although "youth" won its way to the final, Coffin had to come up with a mighty effort to knock 75-year-old William Diddel of Indianapolis out of the running.

Coffin won 1-up in 21 holes when Diddel finally ran out of steam after polishing off three younger opponents.

GOALBYLEADS AZALEA OPEN; OTHERS CLOSE

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Twenty-six golfers were blanketed by four strokes going into today's second round of the $15,000 Azalea open tournament.

Twenty-five of them were chasing pro Bob Goalby, who plays out of Belleville, Ill.

One of the late first-round finishers in the field of 135, Goalby went on a late birdie binge Friday to shoot a two-under par 70 for a one-stroke lead.

Pair Close Second

His five closest pursuers, two of them amateurs, were only one stroke behind.

Buddy Baker of Florence, S.C., holder of the U.S. Golf Assn. junior title, and Claude King, Virginia Beach, Va., and three pros shared runner-up honors.

Don Whitt of Borrego Springs, Calif., and Bert Weaver of Beaumont, Tex., regular members of the pro caravan, and Joe Worrell, golf company equipment salesman from Charlotte, N.C., rounded out the scanty list of par busters.

Day-long wind and showers that persisted until early afternoon made for some of the most difficult golfing weather of the year.

The Cape Fear Country Club's 6,800 yard course, thanks to the elements, was one of the most formidable the tourists had encountered this year.

In very good position for the last three rounds, only two shots back of Goalby, were Art Wall, Pocono Manor, Pa.; Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y.; Eddie Draper of Seattle, and Al Bessellink, Grossinger.

Among the seven tied at 73 were Billy Maxwell of Odesa, Tex., a former winner here, and Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla.

RESUME CUP TILTS TONIGHT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Barons, eight times winner of the Calder Cup, and Rochester Americans, who never have won the coveted trophy attempt to get back in the running tonight for the American Hockey League's post season championship.

The Barons take to their home ice trailing the Hershey Bears 1-0 in the best-of-seven semifinal series. The Americans, also behind 1-0, faced the pennant winning Bruins at Buffalo in the other best-of-seven set.

After tonight's games the series shift to Hershey and Rochester on April 3 and 5.

The only surprise so far of the playoffs has been the play of the Bears. They failed to win their last 10 games of the regular season but promptly thumped the Barons 6-2 on Cleveland ice in Wednesday night's opener. Buffalo beat Rochester 3-2 in the opener of their series.

Records Help Detect Poor Producers, Exercise Good For Breeders, Agent Says

By FRANK S. ZETTLE
Adams County Farm Agent

Many cows on Adams County farms could be classified as dependents, even though their owners can't declare them as such for income tax purposes. They are dependents because they don't produce enough to pay for the feed they consume, the housing they require, and the hours of labor spent in taking care of them.

Frank S. Zettle

Many dairy herds would produce better if the poorest cows were eliminated. A herd of 12 cows, for instance, might produce more milk if one poor producer were culled and her feed divided among the better producers. Then in addition to greater profits, the dairyman would have less work or more time to improve his general management.

Phone 616-Y

The only reliable way to find low producers that pull down a herd's efficiency is to keep some kind of records.

Few Keep Records
Records were kept on only 15 per cent of Pennsylvania's cows last year. Average production for all cows on records in the state was 10,948 pounds of milk.

Record keeping itself does not increase production, of course, but it provides the information needed for efficient operation. On the basis of records, a dairyman can identify unprofitable cows that should be culled and do a better job of feeding and managing the better producers.

Several types of record-keeping plans are available to county dairymen through the Agricultural Extension Service.

Pasture Breeders
If you want healthier breeding animals in the beef herd, the sheep flock, or the swine herd, then keep the breeding animals on pasture the year around.

It's true that they won't get much to eat on pasture during the winter, but they will get much needed exercise, and fresh air.

Too often sow, beef cows and ewes are kept penned up in tight barns or sheds all winter long. These quarters are often damp, dark and lack adequate ventilation. Conditions such as these often lead to respiratory ills in the breeding herds.

One Exception
The one exception to this idea is to keep the animals indoors in protected quarters during the times when the young are born.

Animals should have barn or shed shelters to which they can go when they want to, and if you allow these animals to make their own choice, you'll find they are pretty smart about when to go outside and when to come in.

Pasture and exercise are even more important for the herd sires. It helps in keeping them from becoming excessively fat and aids in maintaining their feet and legs in better condition.

Damp Litter Bad
Damp litter in brooder house is bad.

Damp litter may result from overcrowding, shortage of litter material, poor ventilation, spillage from water fountains or poor litter management. It could be caused by carelessness in filling water fountains or spilling water from pails in carrying from pen to pen. Condensation of moisture in the air of the brooder room sometimes wets the litter in cold weather. This may be caused by too great an increase in ventilation or window openings, and by cold air under single wood floors of colony brooder houses.

Condensation is less of a problem with a double, insulated type of floor. A good plan is to change the ventilation gradually to meet changes in outdoor temperature.

Use Fine Litter
Start with two to four inches of finely cut litter on the brooder house floor. Stir it at least once daily so the heat of the stove and air of the room can help keep it dry. Wet spots are usually found where most chickens sleep.

On The House

By ANDREW C. LANG
The Associated Press

From time to time during the last few years, we've all read or heard about the use of solar energy to heat houses.

Some of us may have received the impression that solar houses are just around the corner. This is hardly the case. Even under the selected conditions under which some experimental solar houses have been built, only a moderate degree of efficiency has been attained. Better heat storage systems remain to be developed before enough heat can be stored for a long enough period of time to take care of a succession of cloudy days.

In a solar house recently built in sunny Phoenix, Ariz., an auxiliary heater is needed to operate for short periods a few times during the year. In a solar house built in Lexington, Mass., under the direction of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the auxiliary heater must do its work more often. The Lexington house is the first of its kind built to meet the needs of an average family in a Northern area.

Ranch Style Residence
One of the world's leading experts on solar energy, engineer John Yellott, has designed for one of the how-to-do-it publications a ranch-style solar residence which makes use of materials which are now commercially available. The idea is to show that a solar house is now a practical reality. In this design, thermo-static controls are proposed to turn the auxiliary heating system on and off automatically. One thing must be remembered in any discussion of solar houses. The installation cost of the equipment must be made so low that the annual cost of owning it — and whatever auxiliary unit is needed — is less than the cost of heating by conventional methods.

and about the feeders and waterers. When the little becomes damp or excessively dirty remove it. If the litter stays dry and is kept bright and clean by frequent additions of new material, and the chicks are doing well, there is little to be gained by frequent cleaning. With good management, many poultrymen clean little only after the chicks have been moved to range or larger pens.

MICHIGANDERS IN ANCHORAGE WITH 7 DOGS

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — This booming city was in complete surrender today to a weary but happy band of modern pioneers who call themselves the Michigan 59ers.

The 37 men, women and children who came from the Detroit area in a 5,000-mile trek to a new life on this new state's Kenai Peninsula rolled into town Friday.

With them were 7 dogs — no other pets — and 5 strangers they picked up along the way.

Their 17 cars and trucks, 6 house trailers and 2 cargo trailers were packed to overflowing with all of their worldly possessions, including tools with which to carve a living from the wilderness.

Fun-loving, bolsterous Anchorage gave them a welcome they'll probably not soon forget.

There was a noisy escort from the outskirts of Anchorage to City Hall, where the 59ers stepped up a red carpet to a greeting by Mayor Hewitt Lounsbury and other dignitaries.

There was a wonderful feast at a modern restaurant and there was friendship all around them. The homesteaders will remain together in a cooperative venture on the Kenai, 224 miles from here. They will pool all of their resources, their tools, their labor and their yield.

gan litihad al Sahaab ignored this advice and declared the recent Mosul uprising should be looked upon as an imperialist reactionary one in which the President of the United Arab Republic "played the role of cats paw."

Kassem has publicly proclaimed a policy of positive neutrality and has given the impression he wants to keep friendly ties with the West, despite his increasing reliance on the Soviet Union for economic and military aid.

Baghdad newspapers said the government has taken over an American missionary hospital at Amara in southern Iraq to provide "equipment it presently lacks." The denomination of the hospital was not identified. The missionaries reportedly were compensated.

NUCLEAR SUB HEADING HOME FROM ARCTIC

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nuclear submarine Skate is heading homeward today after dramatically proving that atomic subs can maneuver under Arctic ice within missile range of the Soviet Union any time of the year.

The Navy said the Skate had completed a 12-day voyage under the Polar ice cap—and in the process smashed through the ice several times to come to the surface. The Navy mentioned only of the scientific aspects of the trip but the military significance was obvious.

The 267-foot submarine surfaced 10 times during its 3,000 polar journey—either in open rifts in the ice or through thin spots in the ice pack. Once, on March 17, the Skate surfaced exactly at the North Pole.

Made Previous Trip
The Skate, which made a similar trip last summer, is now headed for New London, Conn., the same base from which it departed several weeks ago. Until it arrives there April 6 full details of the voyage will not be known. The Navy insisted the trip was

THE WHISPERED ANSWER
By Morris Cohen
Los Angeles, California

At first I could not identify the strange sound. I listened hard, as I sat there on the porch of the resort hotel, and I thought: It sounds something like a duck. But I hesitated to say anything.

I had been blind 11 years, and sometimes it was still difficult for me to be fully aware of all that was happening around me. So, I thought it best just to sink back in my chair and enjoy the winter sun.

Morris Cohen

I heard someone sit down nearby and recognized the voice of the resort owner. "How are things going at school, Morrie?" he asked.

"Fine," I said. "I'm in my third year at Columbia; won't be long before I have to start thinking about earning a living."

"Any problems?" he asked, and I detected the sympathy in his voice.

"No. People have been very helpful."

"What are you studying?"

"English," I said, "and speech."

"Corrective speech?" There was a change in his tone.

"I may go in for that."

Help for Daughter

"Good," he said. "We need specialists like that. I could use one myself for my 12-year-old daughter, Frances. She has a cleft palate."

Then I knew what it was that had sounded like a duck. "Maybe I can help," I said.

Looking back, I know now this was an outrageous suggestion for me to make. I knew little about correcting speech defects, but I also knew I wanted to help the girl, as I had been helped.

I had lost my sight at 15, the result of an accident at play. My family spent a lot of money on tests, examinations and operations, but my vision was not restored. I had to learn to live all over again, going to special schools and relying greatly on my family and friends.

At last when I was able to get about on my own, I resumed my normal studies, but again with much help from everyone I met.

Wanted to Help

Receiving so much help, I wanted to give help to others, but this is difficult for a blind person, who is obviously the first person to be assisted wherever he goes. He develops a sense of indebtedness; I wanted to pay mine off.

At the next college term, I told the head of the speech department that I wanted to learn about corrective speech. He gave me the books which others read to me, and I studied hard all year, returning to the New Jersey resort the following summer.

Still I wasn't of much help to Frances, nor was I during the next two years, though I had memorized all there was to know about cleft palates.

Frances had, from early childhood, tried to conceal her handicap by wriggling her nose and barely opening her mouth when she tried to talk. As a result she was a severe speech cripple.

Prayed For An Idea

One night I tossed sleeplessly in my bed, searching for answers, begging God for help. The thought occurred: try a speaking method she hasn't used before.

The only such method I could imagine was whispering, in which the breath would be forced through the mouth and not permitted to go through the nose, as the girl was now doing. It was worth a try.

We started work early in the morning and continued many hours every day for weeks. Progress was slow, painfully slow, but each day Frances realized that to whisper a little more intelligibly.

Then we began increasing the voice volume gradually, until it was almost normal.

Answered Phone

One day the telephone rang and the girl answered it. Except for a sound like a head cold, she gave no indication of having had a speech defect; she did not have to repeat herself once.

I knew Frances realized what was happening: I could hear the smile in her voice, and kept thinking: "Thank God, thank you, God."

Later, I wrote a report on the whispering technique which was published in a magazine for instructors. That was nine years ago, and letters still come from others, who have found the method effective.

To me, each letter is a reminder of that sleepless night when I prayed for a way to help someone else, in return for all the help granted to me . . . and God's answer came in a whisper.

4 ARE KILLED IN COLLISION

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Three persons were killed instantly shortly after midnight when their car collided with a truck trailer on Route 230, four miles west of here.

State police said the truck was attempting a U-turn and the automobile struck the high, empty trailer broadside and slid beneath it, shearing off the roof of the car.

The driver and two front seat passengers were killed. Two others in the rear of the car escaped with minor injuries. All five were Lancaster county residents.

2 In Hospital

The dead were identified as Robert K. Haines, 23, the driver, of Columbia, R. I.; Ruth E. Miller, 33, of Elizabethtown; and Carl L. Larson Jr., 24, of Lancaster, R. I.

Admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment of shock were Wayne E. Harnley, 21, East Petersburg, and Rosalie M. Mendenhall, 21, of Marietta.

Clyde A. Watkins, 50, of Lynwood, Calif., driver of the truck trailer, was unhurt. He told state police he had missed a cut off for Hanover, Pa., and was trying to make the U-turn across the medial strip of the four-lane highway.
